

Loft Art's "In the Middle of the Road, Beneath the Surface" Exhibition Open to Visitors Until March 15

The exhibition "In the Middle of the Road, Beneath the Surface", organized by Loft Art, which provides a platform for independent artists and highlights the creative journeys of emerging artists at the beginning of their artistic paths, will remain open to art lovers until March 15.

Established to create a platform where independent artists can exhibit their work, Loft Art continues to present the group exhibition "In the Middle of the Road, Beneath the Surface," curated by Zuhal Baysar, to art enthusiasts. Featuring the works of 15 independent artists, the exhibition will be on view at Loft Art until March 15, 2026.

The exhibition includes works by Büşra Abacıođlu, Büşra Göçer, Civan Atik, Dilara Erbay, Ebru Önalán, Ecem Akata, Elif Sema Turnalar, Ercan Kabadayı, Esin Arslan, Fatmanur Bostancı, Feraye Dođan, İlayda Azak, İynes Eyüp, Ufuk Ata Öztürk, and Yađmur Kara.

The exhibition "In the Middle of the Road, Beneath the Surface" centers on an approach that focuses both on staying and moving forward, emphasizing the process rather than the end result. Tracing coincidences, encounters, and subtle details, the exhibition explores the relationship between the artists' hesitation to reveal themselves and the continuity of the creative process.

Focusing on moments of thinking while making, waiting while shaping, and the element of chance, the exhibition also reflects the traces of an intense artistic struggle and intellectual practice. While making visible the creative journeys of young artists who are at the beginning of their artistic paths, the exhibition also brings to the audience the aspects of artistic production that often remain "beneath the surface."

Each artwork reveals a new field of reality shaped by the traces of this invisible creative process. This artistic reality offers an alternative to the world we inhabit, presenting a unique experience with its own set of rules.

The exhibition "In the Middle of the Road, Beneath the Surface" at Loft Art can be visited by art lovers until March 15, 2026.
